.com – The Free Online Data Recovery Softwares For Windows And Mac – A free tool, that can rescue files from the corrupt hard drive in just a few clicks. Sometime it is very difficult to recover data from the corrupt hard drive. It is very frustrating to loose your data. By using one of the software, you can recover your data in just a few clicks. Sophos WannaCrypt 0day exploits are being sold for anywhere between $200 and $3,000 on underground sites. Sophos is aware of the threat, but is warning customers to keep an eye out for a different threat called WannaCry. The ransomware uses a vulnerability that is unpatched in Microsoft Windows. Microsoft released a security update, but it took a few days for it to be included in all supported versions of Windows. Have an older version of Windows? The free Windows update service can now take care of it for you. The "Windows Update for Business" tool runs a scan and recommends updates for your business. This is not the same as Windows Update, and it's only for business. Windows Update is usually the best way to go, but this isn't a time to be lazy. It's critical that your servers, workstations, and Windows devices have the latest updates. You should also regularly update other software such as antivirus software. If you don't, then an attacker can exploit the security holes in those software products and use them to gain access to your network. Don't use connected devices Many computers are connected to the Internet, and they can be infected with ransomware. Think about it: Anything that can connect to the Internet, can be infected with ransomware. You're also vulnerable if your smartphone, tablet, or any other connected device is infected. Don't click on unexpected links or attachments There are scammers out there that will pretend to be legitimate organizations, and send you a link or attachment. They might claim that your company is having an IT problem, or that you need to patch an important security vulnerability in the latest Windows operating system. Instead, you could be installing a back-doored key logger. Only install software from trusted sources A lot of people get caught up in the excitement of using the latest, greatest, and fastest software. They jump right in, and in the process, install back-door Trojans or key loggers. If you have to install new software, use an
